(By United Press)
London, March 10.—The German submarine U-20 was rammed and sunk by the British destroyer Ariel, according to admiralty announcement today. Her crew surrendered and were taken aboard by the British vessel.

The U-20 is one of the most powerful of the German submarines and is similar to the U-21, which has been made famous by the number of vessels she has sunk. Another of these submarines U-19 was sunk on November 23. The Ariel is one of the British ships assigned to the task of destroying German submarines.

WOMANS CLUB HAS PLEASING MEETING

Tramp Nuisance Regarded as Menace—Interesting Papers Read

The Womens club, which meets fortnightly in the Moscop building, spent a very pleasant and profitable hour there on Tuesday afternoon. The attendance was not as large as usual, probably due to the fact that the notice of the meeting was not given to the papers on Monday.

The routine business of the club was transacted and the establishment of a curb market again discussed. It was decided to do nothing towards urging the establishing of the market until Secretary Bodine, of the Chamber of Commerce, comes here in April and to then take the matter up with him.

The tramp nuisance was discussed, and it developed the fact that in many parts of the town the tramps are becoming a real nuisance. It would be a happy condition if some method could be found that would bring "the homeless man" to the jobless man, and the professional tramp made anxious to eliminate the name of Clearfield from his map.

Miss Isabelle Powell gave a most excellent paper on "New Careers for Women." She dwelt particularly on what women are doing today, the fight against prejudice they have made to acquire their present position in the world and the measure of success achieved.

It was the opinion of all present that every member of the club should hear this subject, as presented by Miss Powell, and she very kindly agreed to repeat it at some future meeting.

The mothers present were given some helpful thoughts by Mrs. Kay Wrigley in her presentation of "The Comic Section of Sunday Papers."

All who heard Kettie Jane Dunaway fall in "The Lady of the Decora" will be glad to know that she will present a delightful monologue, "Daddy Long Legs" here next November.

M'JUNKIN'S BODY TAKEN TO MERCER

Funeral services over the body of Walter L. McKunkin were held in the Presbyterian church this morning at 10:30 o'clock and were conducted by Dr. E. C. Reeve, pastor of the church.

The body was taken to the church this morning at 9 o'clock from the home of the cashier of the Clearfield National bank, Mr. Whiteman, and lay in state. From that time until the funeral services a continuous stream of sorrowing friends entered the church to view for the last time the remains of the man whose death has cast a pall over the community. Mr. McKunkin was a prominent Mason and his lodge brothers met in the Masonic club rooms and went in a body to the church.

The body, accompanied by Mr. McKunkin's favorite niece, Mrs. Maxine G. Bruce, and her son James, of Pittsburgh, his brother-in-law, Mr. McElrath, Dr. Reeve, James Mitchell, president of the bank, and W. H. Patterson, was taken to Mercer on the 11 o'clock train.

CITY IS CHUCKLING OVER AN EDITOR'S PREDICAMENT

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Minn., March 10.—People here are chuckling about the little differences between Billy Sunday and Walter C. Edgar, editor of the highbrow Minneapolis publication, The Bellman. The story is told that while Edgar was in Sunday's Philadelphia audience, Billy said, "there is a man amongst us tonight, one of God's chosen who has elected to relieve the famine in bleeding Belgium. His name is Edgar, Minneapolis is his home. I want to shake that man by the hand."

The peculiar part of the thing was that just a week before Edgar published the following:
"A very curious study in modern civilization as found in America is Mr. B. Sunday, late baseball player, and revivalist of a sort. A vulgar, bustling, roaring, iconoclastic, ranting, ranting religious quack whose antics outrage religious decency and who makes a fine living at his trade."

BOARD OF HEALTH ISSUES WARNING

Tells Public How to Act to Prevent Spread of Scarlet Fever

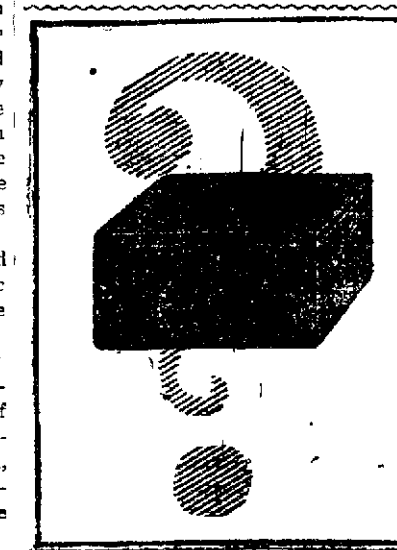

Clearfield's board of health held an informal meeting last evening and discussed the situation relative to the cases of scarlet fever which have developed in this town. It was stated that the contagion is practically under control and that if the people will co-operate with the board the danger of a serious epidemic will be averted.

This week the board of health distributed to the home of the citizens of the borough the following bulletin, the information contained therein and the instructions given being submitted to the citizens for their careful consideration. The bulletin reads:

The borough of Clearfield is facing the possibility of an epidemic of scarlet fever. Numerous cases are scattered throughout the county, hence if there is any carelessness, a general epidemic would follow. The board of health therefore desires to take the citizens of the town into their confidence and ask that every precaution be taken to prevent such a calamity.

Persons so affected will be isolated and placed in quarantine just as soon as the department is advised of such and are telephoning their cases immediately. Quarantine will be rigidly enforced and guards placed, if necessary. Persons refusing to obey the laws will be dealt with severely. This

BIBLE CLASS PAYS DESERVED TRIBUTE TO MR. YOUNGMAN

Holds Banquet in Honor of the Professor's Seventy-Fifth Birthday

His Virtues as a Man and His Value as a Citizen Extolled by Speakers—Touching Tribute to a Gentleman Whose Sterling Qualities of Mind and Heart are Well Known.

Professor B. C. Youngman reached the seventy-fifth milestone of his earthly existence yesterday, and the members of his Bible class of the Presbyterian church and their guests last evening tendered him a banquet in the dining room of the Presbyterian church. Seventy guests sat down to one of those meals for which the ladies of the church are noted, a feast such as makes the diner wish he had the appetite of a South sea islander and the capacity of a giant. After doing full justice to the viands and lighting their cigars the assembled men prepared to listen to short speeches in which the good qualities of Professor Youngman were set forth in earnest and eloquent language.

John W. Urey, Esq., was master of ceremonies, and in his introductory remarks paid tribute to the guest of honor in appropriate language. He then presented Dr. E. C. Reeve, pastor of the church, who spoke very feelingly of the great pleasure he felt in knowing that Professor Youngman was a co-worker in the Sunday school work of the church. Dr. Reeve spoke of the influence of such an exemplary man as Professor Youngman in the work of the church and extolled him as one of the best men he had ever met. The pastor praised the efforts Mr. Youngman is making to bring young men to see the right way of living.

Alexander Paterson, Esq., who is one of Professor Youngman's most attentive and devoted pupils in the Bible class, next addressed the assemblage in his characteristically Scotch manner—straightforward and

WOULD JAIL VOTERS WHO FAIL TO PAY

(By United Press)
Harrisburg, March 10.—A bill to encourage voting by penalizing the elector who fails to execute his right of franchise was introduced by Representative Snyder, of Westmoreland, today. The bill would charge every man who registers $3 and would give him a rebate of $1 if he goes to the primary election and $1 for voting at the regular election.

The most remarkable thing about the bill is that it would send every individual who failed to pay the $3 to the county jail until the amount was paid. The tax is to go to the county for school purposes.

CARRANZA SHOWS SIGNS OF BACKING DOWN

Now Ready To Meet the United States More Than Half Way

AMERICANS ORDERED TO LEAVE MEXICO

Requested to Take Their Departure From the Troubled Republic at the Earliest Possible Moment—Guns of American Warships Trained on Carranza's Headquarters, at Vera Cruz as Reminders to Him That It Would Be Well For Him to Accede to the Demand of the United States That American Lives Must Be Protected.

(By United Press)
Vera Cruz, March 10.—Carranza is ready to meet the United States half way, or even more than half way. His reply to the short note sent him by the United States will be made public at noon today.

Warships at Vera Cruz
Washington, March 10.—Rushing of two more big battleships to Vera Cruz and the request that all Americans leave Mexico at the earliest moment were the chief activities here yesterday in the new Mexican situation. Secretary Daniels, under instruction of President Wilson, ordered Admiral Fletcher to dispatch two vessels from Guantanamo to the temporary capital of General Carranza.

Word came back that the battleship Georgia and the armored cruiser Washington had been sent, under Rear Admiral W. B. Caperton, who will have command of the entire naval force in Mexican east coast waters. The squadron consists of the Washington, Georgia, Delaware (already there), cruiser Tacoma and gunboats Petrel and Sacramento.

Warning Out of Mexico
The warning to Americans was sent through the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, who is representing the United States in the republic. Secretary Bryan said the United States government will do what it can to ward providing transportation for those who desire to leave.

Train Guns on Carranza
The two additional warships have been sent chiefly to intimidate Carranza, but not with any intention of landing a party to take Vera Cruz or to proceed to Mexico City. Carranza will be literally under the guns of these vessels, as his officers are in a building on the quay at Vera Cruz and the theory is that with the big warships at his elbow, he will think twice before refusing to accede to the views of the United States.

Have you ever noticed any peculiar about the number forty? These figures seem to have had an unusual bearing on events, both past and present.

We all know the story of the "forty" thieves, and the old verse of the "forty" flags. Then there are the members of the French Academy, known as the "forty" immortals; and the old slang for "going some" was "going like forty."

But the most interesting list of occurrences in which this mysterious "forty" is to be found is in the Bible, as shown in the following:

The rain that produced the flood fell for "forty" days and "forty" nights, and after it ceased it was "forty" days before Noah opened the ark. Moses was "forty" days on the mountain, fasting, and the spies spent "forty" days investigating matters in Canaan before making their report. Elijah, fasted "forty" days in the wilderness, and Jonah gave the people of Nineveh "forty" days in which to repent. The "forty" days fast of Jesus is known to all readers of the New Testament.

The Bible is always interesting to those who habitually read it. There are, however, hundreds of thousands who should be familiar with the facts, events and teachings contained in this "book of books," but who do not consult it because of its stilted phraseology and mass of detail.

For such persons there has been compiled a remarkably interesting and readable book, "Illustrated Bible Stories for Young and Old," which tells all Bible events in narrative form in the language of today, omitting everything of a superfluous character. Hundreds of costly illustrations add to the fascination of this wonderful book.

Read the Bible Stories certificate on another page of this issue, and learn how you can get this remarkable book with the compliments of this newspaper.

TUESDAY, MARCH 9, 1915

Good evening! Keep cool.

Apply the ounce of prevention.

Obeys the quarantine law and all will be well.

Beware of Greeks handing out worthless checks.

Judge not, lest ye be judged, or words to that effect.

Keep a level head and obey the rules of the health board.

About time to plan for a general clean-up day in Clearfield.

But if there's more to follow we shouldn't care how long this snow lasts.

The ancient saying that whatever goes up must come down is true of about everything but the prices of foodstuffs.

There will be some building of houses for renting purposes this summer, but by no means as many houses as are necessary will be erected.

New papers which devote some of their valuable space in demanding that the Pennsylvania legislature should not busy might as well desist. The busy sign has been taken in at the state capitol.

Steamship companies have reduced the price of passage tickets to Europe, but the steamship companies will have to issue a free insurance policy with each ticket if they wish a big rush of tourists this summer.

When an ordinary man begins making foolish remarks his friends think it time to send him to an insane asylum, but when a college professor gives expression to silly statements he is regarded as a talented man.

President Wilson isn't likely to involve the United States in a war with Mexico, especially when he ought to realize that such a war would keep the United States busy for years and cause the sacrifice of many American lives.

Judge Bell has under consideration the question of the proposition of the state game commission's secretary that the county of Clearfield shall pay the costs in the famous Dickinson deer-killing case, and it is a knotty problem.

Carranza has been warned that he must improve conditions in Mexico or the United States will take the steps necessary to protect foreigners in Mexico City. It would require a pretty big step to bring the Mexicans to their senses.

If any of the hunters in Clearfield county expects the legislature to pass an act in the interest of game protection or propagation they might as well prepare to be disappointed. Game laws are passed in this state for the benefit of the pot hunter and game hog.

Local hunters should petition the governor to place the state game commission in the hands of men who are in favor of giving honest sportsmen a chance at the game and who would make it impossible for the game hogs from the big cities playing all of the birds in woods and fields.

The board of health speaks very hopefully of the situation in Clearfield, and it is the duty of the citizens to aid the board in its efforts to stamp out the few cases of scarlet fever now prevalent here. Children should not be allowed to attend large and promiscuous gatherings where the germs of the disease may be encountered.

A MAN AMONG MEN

The high regard in which Professor B. C. Youngman is held by members of the Presbyterian Bible class, as evidenced by the giving of a banquet to the gentlemen last evening, is shared by every citizen of Clearfield who is acquainted with Mr. Youngman. Mr. Youngman has been a resident of Clearfield for the past forty years, and during that time he has proven himself worthy of the respect and esteem of every citizen. To the average citizen Mr. Youngman gives no outward sign of the greatness of his mind and heart, because his one fault or failing is his extreme modesty.

Mr. Youngman has occupied the positions of county superintendent of the public schools and of city superintendent, and in both offices he gave his best talents in aiding the building up of the school. But in neither office were the abilities and intellectual qualifications of Mr. Youngman put to the test. As Judge Bell remarked last evening, Mr. Youngman's innate modesty prevented him asserting his right to be given a chance to display his remarkable gift of intelligence and wisdom in a broader field.

In honoring Mr. Youngman the Bible class honored the town, and in paying tribute to that gentleman's sterling qualities of mind and heart the speakers at the banquet voiced the sentiment of every person in Clearfield who is aware of his peculiar and superior mental abilities. The volume to the town of such a citizen as Mr. Youngman cannot be overestimated, and although he has reached the age of seventy-five years he shows few signs of the ravages of time, his mind being as clear as ever and his physical condition excellent. His host of friends trust that he may remain with them for at least another quarter of a century.

WALTER L. McJUNKIN

Those who knew Walter L. McJunkin cannot be convinced that he deliberately took his own life. Mr. McJunkin's whole life cries out against such a supposition. He may have been suffering from an illness which annoyed him, but his well known aversion to the thought of suicide, as expressed to his friends on occasions, causes them to dismiss the idea that he premeditated the deed which robbed the town of one of its most highly respected citizens.

There is some comfort for the minds of his friends in the belief that Mr. McJunkin, disturbed in his sleep in the early morning hours, unconsciously reached out, got hold of his revolver and half asleep, fired the fatal shot. His preparations for retiring Monday night were made in his usual methodical manner, and that there was a thought of self-destruction in his mind at that time none who know him can be convinced. His death may be regarded as one of those unexplainable accidents of sleep which are of frequent occurrence.

THE AMERICAN POSITON

The Philadelphia Ledger voices the sentiment of the American people in the following statement:

The firm tone adopted in the American note to Germany has produced good results. Germany retreats from her untenable position as to neutral shipping entering the war zone, and she is willing to consider the discontinuance of warfare by means of floating mines. Other concessions may follow, depending partly upon the urgency of Washington and partly upon the disposition of the British government to compromise on the issues raised by the several blockades. Consideration of the German reply in detail may be deferred until we learn whether Great Britain proposes in any respect to modify her policy. If she will not recede from the attitude outlined in Mr. Asquith's statement to the house of commons this country has only one course to adopt. That would be a firm and vigorous assertion of the right of our ships to traverse the seas without interference except such as might arise from a regularly proclaimed and definitely established blockade.

THE TWILIGHT WITCH

The twilight witch comes with her stars
And strews them through the blue,
Then breathes below the sunset bars
A breath of meadow rue;
She trails her veil across the skies
And mutters to the trees,
And in the wood, with fiery eyes
She makes the mysteries,
The twilight witch, with elf and fay,
Is coming down the slumber way,
Sleep, my dearie, sleep.

The twilight witch with crescent moon
Stoops on the wooded hill;
She answers to the owl's tune,
And to the whippoorwill,
She leans above the reedy pool
And wakes the drowsy frog,
And with the toadstool, dim and cool,
Rims gray the old dead log.

The twilight witch comes stealing down
To take you off to slumber town,
Sleep, my dearie, sleep.

The twilight witch, with windlike tread
Has entered in the room;
She steals around your trundle-bed
And whispers in the gloom,
She says: "I brought my steed along,
My fiery steed of gleams,
To bear you, like a breath of song,
Into the land of dreams.
I am the witch who takes your hand
And leads you off to fairyland,
The far-off land of sleep."

MINNESOTA PLANS TO RECLAIM MILLION ACRES

(By United Press)

Bemidji, Minn., March 10.—One million dollars will be spent in Beltrami and adjoining counties by the state of Minnesota this spring, to reclaim 1,000,000 acres of land, which if free of water, would be among the most fertile. State land experts estimate that the value of the reclaimed land during 1915 will be $6,000,000, but that before the end of 10 years, will be $100,000,000. This estimate by the state experts is based upon statistics of other land value increased in Minnesota.

The majority of this land to be reclaimed is in the northern part or adjoining the northern part of Beltrami county, which in itself is 156 miles long. Some of the strip to be reclaimed extends over to St. Louis county, which is larger than the combined area of Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Governor Makes Appeal For Child Labor Measure

Martin G. Brumbaugh, governor of Pennsylvania has renewed his allegiance to the people. He took his stand directly in opposition to all of the sinister influences which are combating his efforts to have a child labor law passed and once more appealed to the people to stand back of him.

The Cox child labor bill, introduced last Wednesday, although by far the most advanced legislation on the subject ever considered in Pennsylvania, does not really satisfy the governor, but he regards it as the greatest height to which Pennsylvania can be expected to rise at present.

Generally speaking, the governor has few objections to the Phipps child labor bill, backed by the Pennsylvania Child Labor association and other organizations, but he objects to it because it contains no educational provisions.

This vocational education plan will, if adopted, put Pennsylvania far, far ahead of any other state. Doctor Brumbaugh, having personally supervised a test of such a measure in Philadelphia, knows that it is extremely practicable and practical.

Doctor Brumbaugh, in his statement says:

"In the campaign last fall it was specifically set forth in the party platform and in the addresses of the candidates that the present legislature should enact as fair, just and advanced a child labor law as any commonwealth could reasonably enact. I take this pledge as a command. I believe absolutely that it is one's duty in office to do exactly what he promised to do when a candidate. I hold that it is decent and fair to be frankly honest and let the people know exactly what the administration thinks and does."

"In my inaugural I said no child under 16 should work in Pennsylvania. He should be in school. I stand squarely by that now. Had I my way I would gladly support such a measure. We shall soon see a day in which we shall be ashamed of a law that permits a child under 16 to work for wages and to lose the inestimable blessings and benefits of an education adequate to his needs."

"If, however, the legislature will not rise to this plane of service to childhood at this session, I submit in the next place and as a distinct advance over any existing law the Cox bill, which provides that children under 16 and over 14 may work under a wise certification as to age and physical fitness, under the following conditions:

"The maximum hours per week to be fifty-two.

"The maximum hours per day to be nine.

"And, provided, that the child so employed shall, between 14 and 15 years of age, spend one full day per week in a vocational school, and the child between 15 and 16 years of age shall spend one-half day per week in a vocational school.

"This is the definitely new note in the Cox bill. In all other respects it is the same as the other advanced child labor laws in this country, and this feature is unique. It makes easy instead of difficult the transition from school to industry. It sets in the public school system a new type of school, a school that will guarantee to the child specific and practical aid in attaining speedily a self-supporting relation to society. It is likewise wholly advantageous to the employer, since it speedily gives to him dependable and reliable service of great skill. It is also to the interest of the state, since it fits our young people in a thoroughly practical way to establish definite wage-earning relations, found a home, rear a family and become a very desirable and valuable member of the state's citizenry.

"The Phipps bill provides a forty-eight hour week and an eight-hour day. In all other respects it is essentially the same as the Cox bill. The Phipps bill represents the most advanced thought of the child labor societies and the best procedure of other states. I am convinced that if the people want a sudden termination of school life and an equally sudden beginning of work, and also want children under 16 to work, then the Phipps bill should be enacted into law. It is with these limitations a very good bill. But I insist that we go further and make education one of the permanent concerns of every child until he is 16.

"I ask all fair-minded citizens, all lovers of the state, all friends of children, to consider these measures with care. Selfish interests must not weigh against the child and the state. We are all securely pledged to an advanced and humane child labor law. I want this great state to be the first to teach the world how to solve for industry and for childhood this problem. The Cox bill offers this opportunity. It is our duty to meet it and act promptly upon it."

Vast Crowds See the Opening of Great Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco Feb. 20.

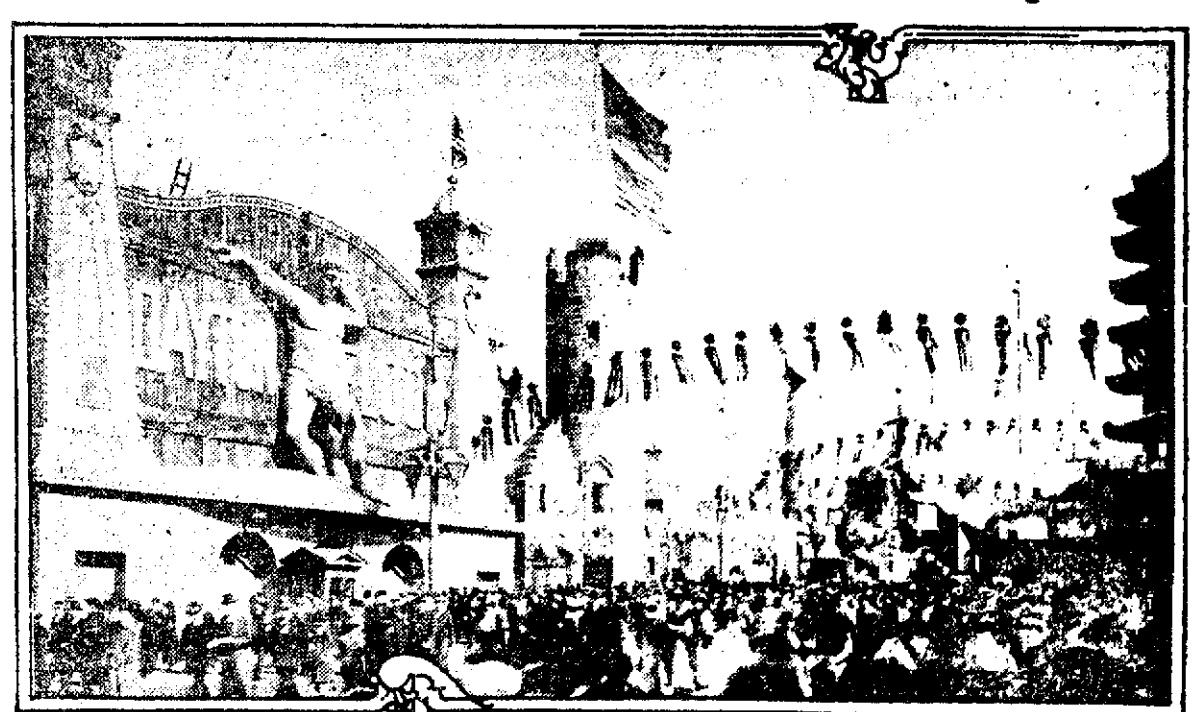

THIS remarkable panoramic photograph reproduced in two sections, one half above the other, shows part of the vast crowd that gathered on the opening day of the Exposition, Saturday, Feb. 20. The crowd was not only the greatest ever brought together in the west, but in witness it broke previous exhibition attendance records. The grounds were thronged with visitors from every part of the globe, and the big attendance still continues. The opening day crowd was remarkably peaceful, and no arrests were made by the Exposition guards or military during the day, and but one child was lost and it was returned to its mother within fifteen minutes. There were no accidents. On the left, in the upper photograph, is seen A. Stirling Oliver's magnificent sculpture "Energy, the Lord of the Isthmian Way," the figure of Energy is mounted on a spirited steed. Beneath the figure of Energy in the basin below may be seen the figure of a Venus, representing the North sea, the other figures in the basin. Next, at the left in the lower photograph, come the main exhibit palaces, the temporary grand stand erected for the opening day exercises. Here, headed by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, acting in behalf of President Wilson, President Charles C. Moore of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, Dr. Frederick J. V. Skiff, director in chief, accompanied by the thirty Exposition directors, welcomed the vast throng that assembled in Van Ness avenue and its lateral streets and, headed by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., walked on foot through the streets of the city and into the Exposition grounds through the Scott street entrance to the grand stand. At the time this photograph was taken, Vice Admiral Benches, aviator, had just appeared above the horizon in his flying machine, and the throng was awaiting Mr. Benches' approach to circle the huge Tower of Jewels. The exhibit palaces were crowded with tens of thousands of visitors who were smiling that wouldn't come off.

Opening Day on The Zone at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition

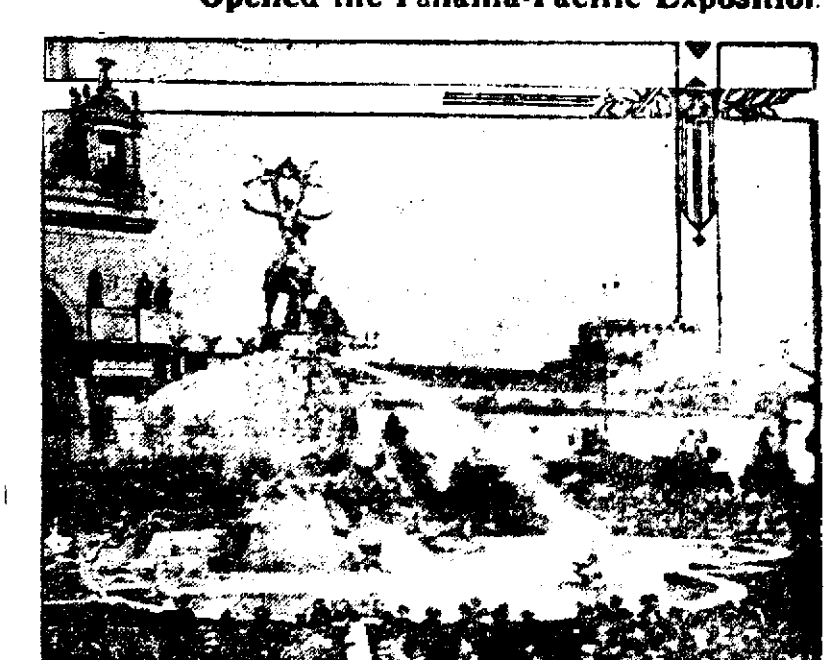

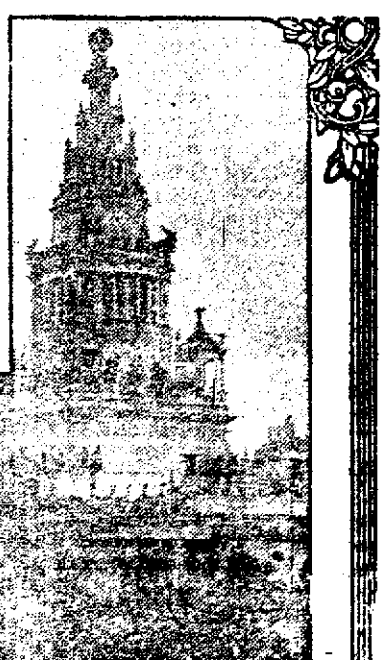

OPENING day, Feb. 20, vast crowds thronged The Zone, the amusement and commercial section of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The Dayton Flood is shown on the left, the Chinese Village and Toyland Grown Up on the right. The opening day was marked by the most striking manifestations of enthusiasm ever known in the west.

Opening Day at Panama-Pacific International Exposition Broke All Exposition Attendance Records

since speaking of the professor, as one of the noblest men that ever lived, telling of the professor's gifts of intellect, his mental ability, and his genuine effort to teach the truth. Mr. Patterson said the regarded Professor Youngman as one of the most accomplished educators of the land, and as one who inspired others with his earnestness, his desire to live the better life and his unselfish character. The tribute to Mr. Youngman's worth as a man and value as a citizen paid by Mr. Patterson showed the high regard in which he holds the Bible class teacher.

J. Fred Weaver followed with a fitting eulogium to the ability and solid worth of Mr. Youngman. He said that Mr. Youngman must be impressed with the fact that the Bible class holds him in high esteem and respect and said that Mr. Youngman deserves the love and admiration of his class. Mr. Weaver stated that the desire of the Bible class to express its kindly regard for Mr. Youngman came from the heart and was prompted by love for their teacher and appreciation of his preeminence as a citizen.

Senator McQuown, of the committee which had the matter of a substantial remembrance of the occasion in the shape of the material gift to Mr. Youngman, spoke very feelingly of his acquaintance with many years with the honor guest, and in closing presented Mr. Youngman with a number of gold coins, asserting that the precious metal would remind him of the fact that he is regarded by his friends as a man of the highest standard of manhood.

Professor Youngman, being called upon, said that he hoped his class would not expect him to make a speech. He wished to state that he appreciated the token of fellowship and the evidence of his class' kind regard for him better than words could express. Mr. Youngman spoke feelingly and in that modest manner which has ever distinguished him. He accepted the "yellow pill" in the spirit in which it was given, not only as money, but as an earnest of the love and friendship of the class.

Judge Singleton Bell aided his tribute to the omens of the evening, expressing a long other sentiments the fact that it had been Mr. Youngman's extreme modesty and not lack of ability that had prevented him seeking broader fields in which the light of his intellect would have shone resplendently. Judge Bell declared that Mr. Youngman was amply fitted to occupy any position in which intelligent thought and executive ability were required. He considered Mr. Youngman one of the best speakers of the day, because Mr. Youngman both thought and talked and said what he thought, which distinguished him from many men who could think but not talk or who talked without the ability to think.

One of the pleasant incidents of the evening was the bringing in by the efficient women who served the feast of a large birthday cake covered with lighted candles. At the close of the speechmaking a vote of thanks was presented to the capable ladies who had provided the supper and so courteously served it to the hungry guests.

Before adjourning a resolution attesting to the manly worth and excellent character of the late Walter L. McDunkin and expressing the condolences of the class to his relatives in their hour of bereavement was read by Alfred R. Reed and adopted by the class.

The affair throughout was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the Bible class of the Presbyterian church, the guests mingling in that friendly manner which proves that

DU BOIS DEFEATED BY BROOKVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

The strength of the Brookville high school basketball team which will play the local boys on the Y. M. C. A. floor in a couple of weeks was shown at DuBois last evening when Brookville won the game with DuBois high by a score of 30 to 24. The DuBois team, it is said, did not play with the aggressiveness which they displayed in their games with Clearfield, and so the contest here with Brookville may be expected to be a good one.

is not the time for experimenting with the board of health in this respect. There is some reason to believe that the present cases arising from the selfishness or neglect of persons having a mild case of scarlet fever in their homes and refusing to be conveniently quarantined, who have not employed a physician or made known the case to the health authorities. No punishment can be so severe for such persons, and the board announces that if such cases are found they will not be dealt with leniently.

The fact that the cases are scattered makes the possibility of an epidemic more probable. The board of health and the superintendent of schools held a joint meeting yesterday and formulated the following plan of procedure in the case of eventualities.

1. Keep your children in school. They are clean, thoroughly ventilated and carefully supervised by the teachers who will discontinue any suspicious cases and see that they receive prompt medical attention.

2. Should the number of cases continue to increase schools, churches and movies will be closed and all public gatherings of all kinds be prohibited until such time as the epidemic is deemed to be under control.

3. If you know of farmers who are selling produce coming from farms which are under quarantine, kindly request them to return home, and make report of same to the secretary of the board.

4. You will save money by employing your family physician early in all cases of illness which may arise during the existence of scarlet fever in your town.

Scarlet fever is an acute, infectious, specific and contagious disease. It is contagious from the beginning of eruption until scaling is complete. The period required for development after coming in contact with the infected patient is from one to seven days, more often two to four. In rare cases it is two weeks.

If you know or think you know of persons who are trying to conceal outbreaks, investigate and see if there is any ground for complaint. Then fill in the blank below, signing your own name. All complaints must be signed and addresses given. No names are divulged by this board.

AMUSEMENTS

"When Dreams Come True"
The conspicuous new thing in local theatricals will be the production here on Monday, March 15, at the opera house of the musical story of youth, "When Dreams Come True." The book and lyrics were written by Philip Bartholomew, whose previous stage successes include "Little Miss Brown" and "Over Night." The score of "When Dreams Come True" was composed exclusively by Silvio Hein, a composer of national reputation, who wrote many of Marie Cahill's most successful songs.

The scenic effects are elaborate and massive, and show many features that are pleasing to the eye. The gowns worn by the ladies of the company come from the Orange Costume Co. of New York, and they are said to be wonderful creations of the dressmaker's art.

The cast engaged in the presentation of "When Dreams Come True" includes many names notable in the musical comedy field. Frederic Santley will have the leading role and other parts will be played by Mabel Withee, Connie Mack, Andrew Glassford, Margaret Grace, Anna Little and Jack Mundy. W. M. Chessman, Peggy Lundun and others. Seats now selling.

SUBMARINE U-20 SUNK BY BRITISH DESTROYER

Crew of German Boat Made Prisoners After Boat Had Been Rammed

LONDON PRESS DEMANDS LIVES OF CREWS

Wants Acts of Submarines Declared Piracy and Their Crews Murderers, to Let the World Know That England Considers Them Criminals, Not as Honorable Enemies—Three More British Steamships Torpedoed and Sunk Without Warning—Only One Man of a Crew of 38 Saved—German Boats Active.

(By United Press)

London, March 10.—The German submarine U-20 was rammed and sunk by the British destroyer Ariel, according to admiralty announcement today. Her crew surrendered and were taken aboard by the British vessel.

The U-20 is one of the most powerful of the German submarines and is similar to the U-21, which has been made famous by the number of vessels she has sunk. Another of these submarines U-19 was sunk on November 23. The Ariel is one of the British ships assigned to the task of destroying German submarines.

Calls Them Murderers

Liverpool, March 10.—Incensed at the sinking of three ships, causing the loss of 37 lives, by German submarines, the London press demands that the government carry out its threat to treat such acts as piracy and try

WOMANS CLUB HAS PLEASING MEETING

Tramp Nuisance Regarded as Menace—Interesting Papers Read

The Womens club, which meets fortnightly in the Moscop building, spent a very pleasant and profitable hour there on Tuesday afternoon. The attendance was not as large as usual, probably due to the fact that the notice of the meeting was not given to the papers on Monday.

The routine business of the club was transacted and the establishment of a curb market again discussed. It was decided to do nothing towards urging the establishing of the market until Secretary Bodine, of the Chamber of Commerce, comes here in April and to then take the matter up with him.

The tramp nuisance was discussed, and it developed the fact that in many parts of the town the tramps are becoming a real nuisance. It would be a happy condition if some method could be found that would bring "the homeless man" to the jobless man, and the professional tramp made anxious to eliminate the name of Clearfield from his map.

Miss Isabelle Powell gave a most excellent paper on "New Careers for Women." She dwelt particularly on what women are doing today, the fight against precedence they have made to acquire their present position in the world and the measure of success achieved.

It was the opinion of all present that every member of the club should bear this subject, as presented by Miss Powell, and she very kindly agreed to repeat it at some future meeting.

The mothers present were given some helpful thoughts by Mrs. Kay Wrigley in her presentation of "The Comic Section of Sunday Papers."

All who heard Kettie Jane Dunaway fall in "The Lady of the Decora" will be glad to know that she will present a delightful monologue, "Daddy Long Legs" here next November.

Huge Super-Dreadnought Joins Dardanelles Fleet

(By United Press)

London, March 10.—Six British warships are concentrating upon the Gallipoli peninsula, in the Dardanelles narrows, in an effort to silence the guns that have so far swept the straits for several miles and blocked the entrance into the sea.

the crew of the U-8 as pirates.

When the U-8 was captured recently her crew of 28 were made prisoners. The U-8 claims that she has sunk five vessels in the English channel. One writer today demanded that the government "treat the crew as pirates and murderers and let the world know that England considers them as criminals, not as honorable enemies."

Sunk Without Warning

London, March 10.—An official announcement, just issued shows that German submarine U-8 yesterday (Tuesday) sank three steamships without warning. The statement says:

"The steamship Tingistan was sunk by a German submarine off Scarborough at 12 30 o'clock the morning of March 9. Only one man of her crew of thirty-eight was saved."

"The steamship Blackwood was sunk by a submarine off Scarborough, off Hastings at 6 o'clock on the morning of March 9. Her crew of seventeen was saved."

"The steamship Princess Royal, of Glasgow, was sunk without warning, by a German submarine at 9 15 o'clock on the morning of March 9 off Liverpool. Her crew of thirty-four was saved."

The two former cargo boats and the latter one a coastwise passenger ship, indicates that German submarines are raiding at widely separated points around the British Isles. As each of the boats was torpedoed in a period of less than nine hours, it would seem probable that all three were sunk by different underwater boats.

Firemen Called Twice To Small Blazes

The firemen were called out just before noon today to extinguish a fire at the home of Annie Meritt on West Front street. The roof of the house caught fire from the fire, but with the help of neighbors the fire was extinguished before the firemen reached the scene of action.

The fire in the home of Mrs. Almira Pooman, of Reedsville, caught fire at noon today, and the firemen were called out a second time. Little or no damage was done by the fire, which was soon under control.

Mystery in Warship's Presence

Grassflat Man Gets in Wrong
S. M. Kurtz, of Grassflat, was arrested by a local officer yesterday, charged with having bought and supplied liquor to a Clearfield habitual drunkard. Kurtz was taken before Judge Chorperring and was committed to jail to await the action of Judge Bell.

Another huge super-dreadnought, similar to the Queen Elizabeth, has joined the fleet. The ship is the War Sprite. It is believed that other ships have been added to the fleet also. The aggregate tonnage of the fleet gathered there now is six times that of the Armada of ancient times.

M'JUNKIN'S BODY TAKEN TO MERCER

Funeral services over the body of Walter L. McKunkin were held in the Presbyterian church this morning at 10:30 o'clock and were conducted by Dr. E. C. Reeve, pastor of the church. The body was taken to the church this morning at 9 o'clock from the home of the cashier of the Clearfield National bank, Mr. Whiteman, and lay in state. From that time until the funeral services a continuous stream of sorrowing friends entered the church to view for the last time the remains of the man whose death has cast a pall over the community. Mr. McKunkin was a prominent Mason and his lodge brothers met in the Masonic club rooms and went in a body to the church.

The body, accompanied by Mr. McKunkin's favorite niece, Mrs. Maxine G. Bruce, and her son James, of Pittsburgh, his brother-in-law, Mr. McElrath, Dr. Reeve, James Mitchell, president of the bank, and W. H. Patterson, was taken to Mercer on the 11 o'clock train.

CITY IS CHUCKLING OVER AN EDITOR'S PREDICAMENT

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, Minn., March 10.—People here are chuckling about the little differences between Billy Sunday and Walter C. Edgar, editor of the highbrow Minneapolis publication, The Bellman. The story is told that while Edgar was in Sunday's Philadelphia audience, Billy said, "there is a man amongst us tonight, one of God's chosen who has elected to relieve the famine in bleeding Belgium. His name is Edgar, Minneapolis is his home. I want to shake that man by the hand."

The peculiar part of the thing was that just a week before Edgar published the following:

"A very curious study in modern civilization as found in America is Mr. B. Sunday, late baseball player, and revivalist of a sort. A vulgar, bustling, roaring, iconoclastic, ranting, ranting religious quack whose antics outrage religious decency and who makes a fine living at his trade."

BOARD OF HEALTH ISSUES WARNING

Tells Public How to Act to Prevent Spread of Scarlet Fever

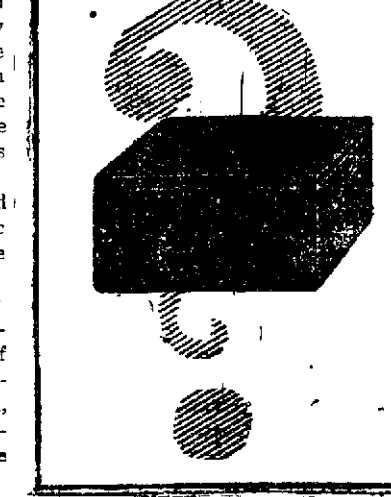

Clearfield's board of health held an informal meeting last evening and discussed the situation relative to the cases of scarlet fever which have developed in this town. It was stated that the contagion is practically under control and that if the people will co-operate with the board the danger of a serious epidemic will be averted.

This week the board of health distributed to the home of the citizens of the borough the following bulletin, the information contained therein and the instructions given being submitted to the citizens for their careful consideration. The bulletin reads:

The borough of Clearfield is facing the possibility of an epidemic of scarlet fever. Numerous cases are scattered throughout the county, hence if there is any carelessness, a general epidemic would follow. The board of health therefore desires to take the citizens of the town into their confidence and ask that every precaution be taken to prevent such a calamity.

Persons so affected will be isolated and placed in quarantine just as soon as the department is advised of such and are telephoning their cases immediately. Quarantine will be rigidly enforced and guards placed, if necessary. Persons refusing to obey the laws will be dealt with severely. This

Holds Banquet in Honor of the Professor's Seventy- Fifth Birthday

His Virtues as a Man and His Value as a Citizen Extolled by Speakers—
Touching Tribute to a Gentleman
Whose Sterling Qualities of Mind and Heart are Well Known.

Professor B. C. Youngman reached the seventy-fifth milestone of his earthly existence yesterday, and the members of his Bible class of the Presbyterian church and their guests last evening tendered him a banquet in the dining room of the Presbyterian church. Seventy guests sat down to one of those meals for which the ladies of the church are noted, a feast such as makes the diner wish he had the appetite of a South sea islander and the capacity of a giant. After doing full justice to the viands and lighting their cigars the assembled men prepared to listen to short speeches in which the good qualities of Professor Youngman were set forth in earnest and eloquent language.

John W. Urey, Esq., was master of ceremonies, and in his introductory remarks paid tribute to the guest of honor in appropriate language. He then presented Dr. E. C. Reeve, pastor of the church, who spoke very feelingly of the great pleasure he felt in knowing that Professor Youngman was a co-worker in the Sunday school work of the church. Dr. Reeve spoke of the influence of such an exemplary man as Professor Youngman in the work of the church and extolled him as one of the best men he had ever met. The pastor praised the efforts Mr. Youngman is making to bring young men to see the right way of living.

WOULD JAIL VOTERS WHO FAIL TO PAY

(By United Press)

Harrisburg, March 10.—A bill to encourage voting by penalizing the elector who fails to execute his right of franchise was introduced by Representative Snyder, of Westmoreland, today. The bill would charge every man who registers $3 and would give him a rebate of $1 if he goes to the primary election and $1 for voting at the regular election.

The most remarkable thing about the bill is that it would send every individual who failed to pay the $3 to the county jail until the amount was paid. The tax is to go to the county for school purposes.

CARRANZA SHOWS SIGNS OF BACKING DOWN

Now Ready To Meet the United States More Than Half Way

AMERICANS ORDERED TO LEAVE MEXICO

Requested to Take Their Departure From the Troubled Republic at the Earliest Possible Moment—Guns of American Warships Trained on Carranza's Headquarters, at Vera Cruz as Reminders to Him That It Would Be Well For Him to Accede to the Demand of the United States That American Lives Must Be Protected.

(By United Press)

Vera Cruz, March 10.—Carranza is ready to meet the United States half way, or even more than half way. His reply to the short note sent him by the United States will be made public at noon today.

Warships at Vera Cruz

Washington, March 10.—Rushing of two more big battleships to Vera Cruz and the request that all Americans leave Mexico at the earliest moment were the chief activities here yesterday in the new Mexican situation. Secretary Daniels, under instruction of President Wilson, ordered Admiral Fletcher to dispatch two vessels from Guantanamo to the temporary capital of General Carranza.

Word came back that the battleship Georgia and the armored cruiser Washington had been sent, under Rear Admiral W. B. Caperton, who will have command of the entire naval force in Mexican east coast waters. The squadron consists of the Washington, Georgia, Delaware (already there), cruiser Tacoma and gunboats Petrel and Sacramento.

Warning Out of Mexico

The warning to Americans was sent through the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, who is representing the United States in the republic. Secretary Bryan said the United States government will do what it can to

Judge Umbel To Resign From Office

Uniontown, March 10.—Judge Umbel, presiding judge of the Fayette county courts, today announced in an official statement and through the county papers that he would resign so that his successor could be elected in 1917. The announcement was followed by one from Attorney Dumbauld, stating that he would drop impeachment proceedings against Judge Umbel.

Clearfield Would Lose a Member Under This Bill

(By United Press)

Train Guns on Carranza
The two additional warships have been sent chiefly to intimidate Carranza, but not with any intention of landing a party to take Vera Cruz or to proceed to Mexico City. Carranza will be literally under the guns of these vessels, as his officers are in a building on the quay at Vera Cruz and the theory is that with the big warships at his elbow, he will think twice before refusing to accede to the views of the United States.

NUMBER 40 MUST HAVE A MEANING

Strange Coincidence That These Figures Should Appear So Frequently

Have you ever noticed any peculiar about the number forty? These figures seem to have had an unusual bearing on events, both past and present.

We all know the story of the "forty" thieves, and the old verse of the "forty" flags. Then there are the members of the French Academy, known as the "forty" immortals; and the old slang for "going some" was "going like forty."

But the most interesting list of occurrences in which this mysterious "forty" is to be found is in the Bible, as shown in the following:

The rain that produced the flood fell for "forty" days and "forty" nights, and after it ceased it was "forty" days before Noah opened the ark. Moses was "forty" days on the mountain, fasting, and the spies spent "forty" days investigating matters in Canaan before making their report. Elijah, fasted "forty" days in the wilderness, and Jonah gave the people of Nineveh "forty" days in which to repent. The "forty" days fast of Jesus is known to all readers of the New Testament.

The Bible is always interesting to those who habitually read it. There are, however, hundreds of thousands who should be familiar with the facts, events and teachings contained in this "book of books," but who do not consult it because of its stilted phraseology and mass of detail.

For such persons there has been compiled a remarkably interesting and readable book, "Illustrated Bible Stories for Young and Old," which tells all Bible events in narrative form in the language of today, omitting everything of a superfluous character. Hundreds of costly illustrations add to the fascination of this wonderful book.

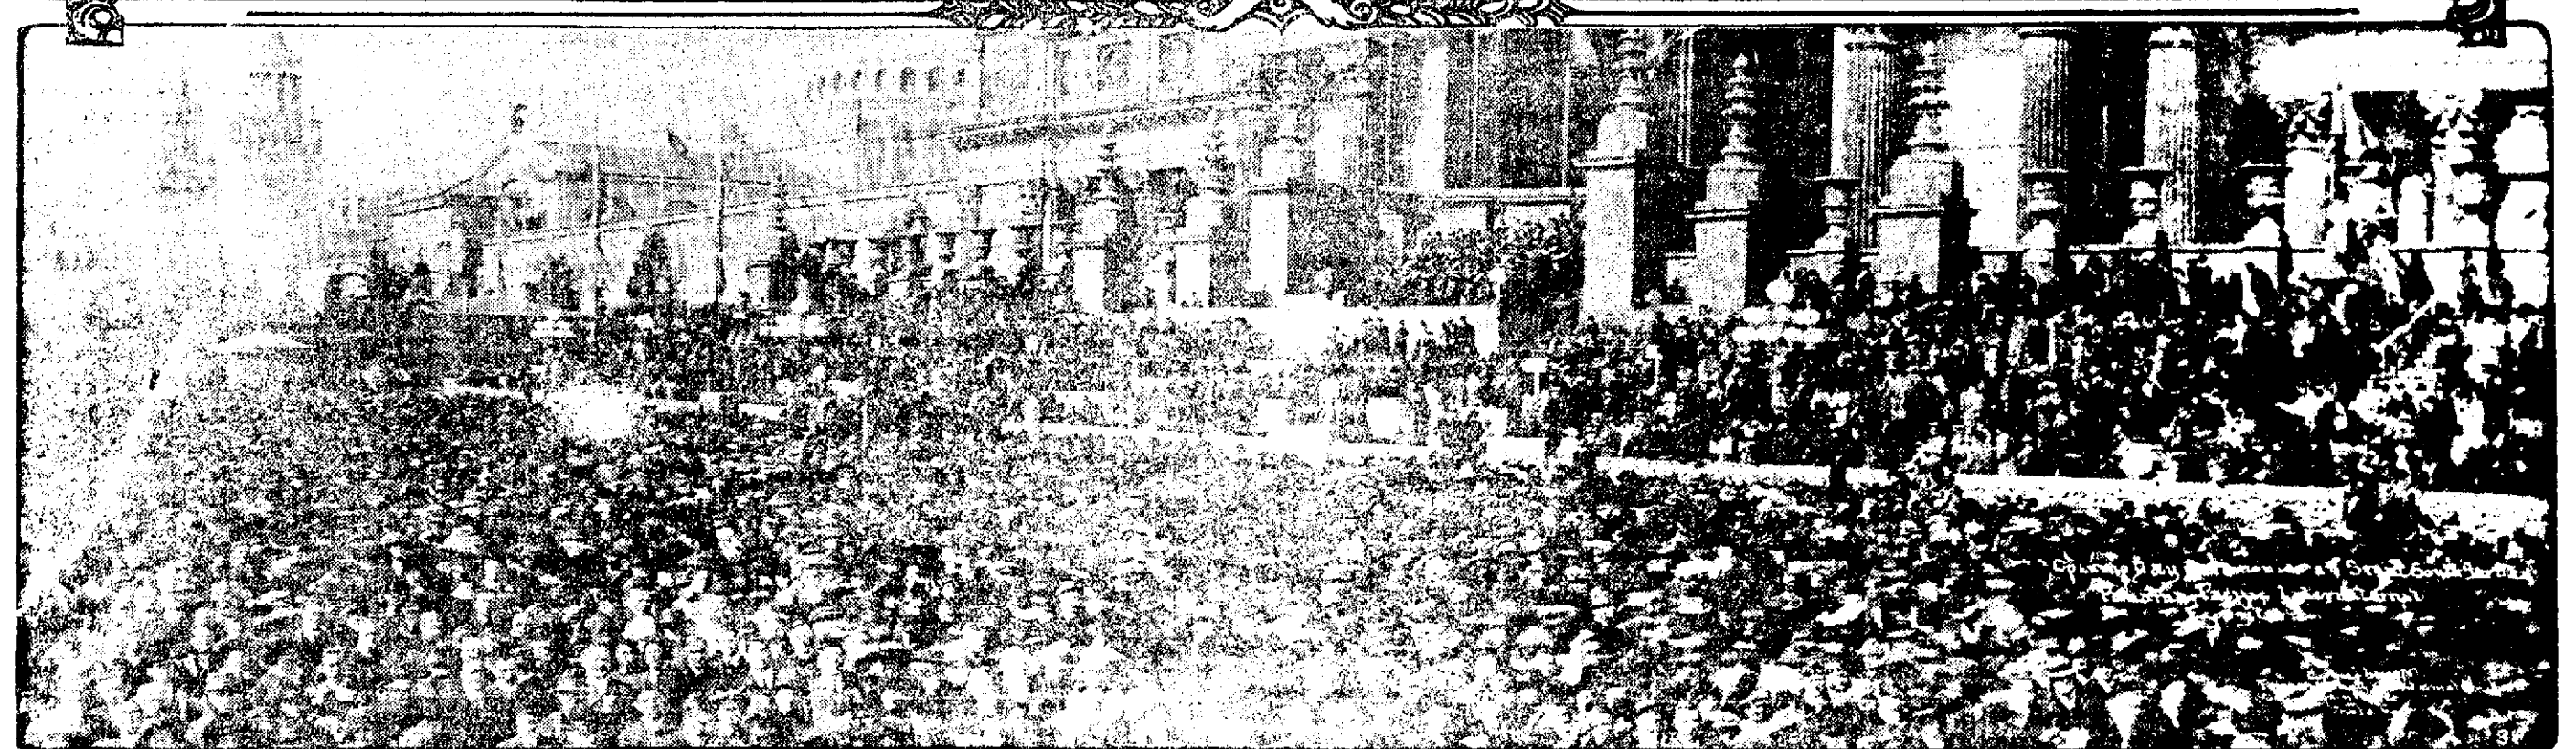

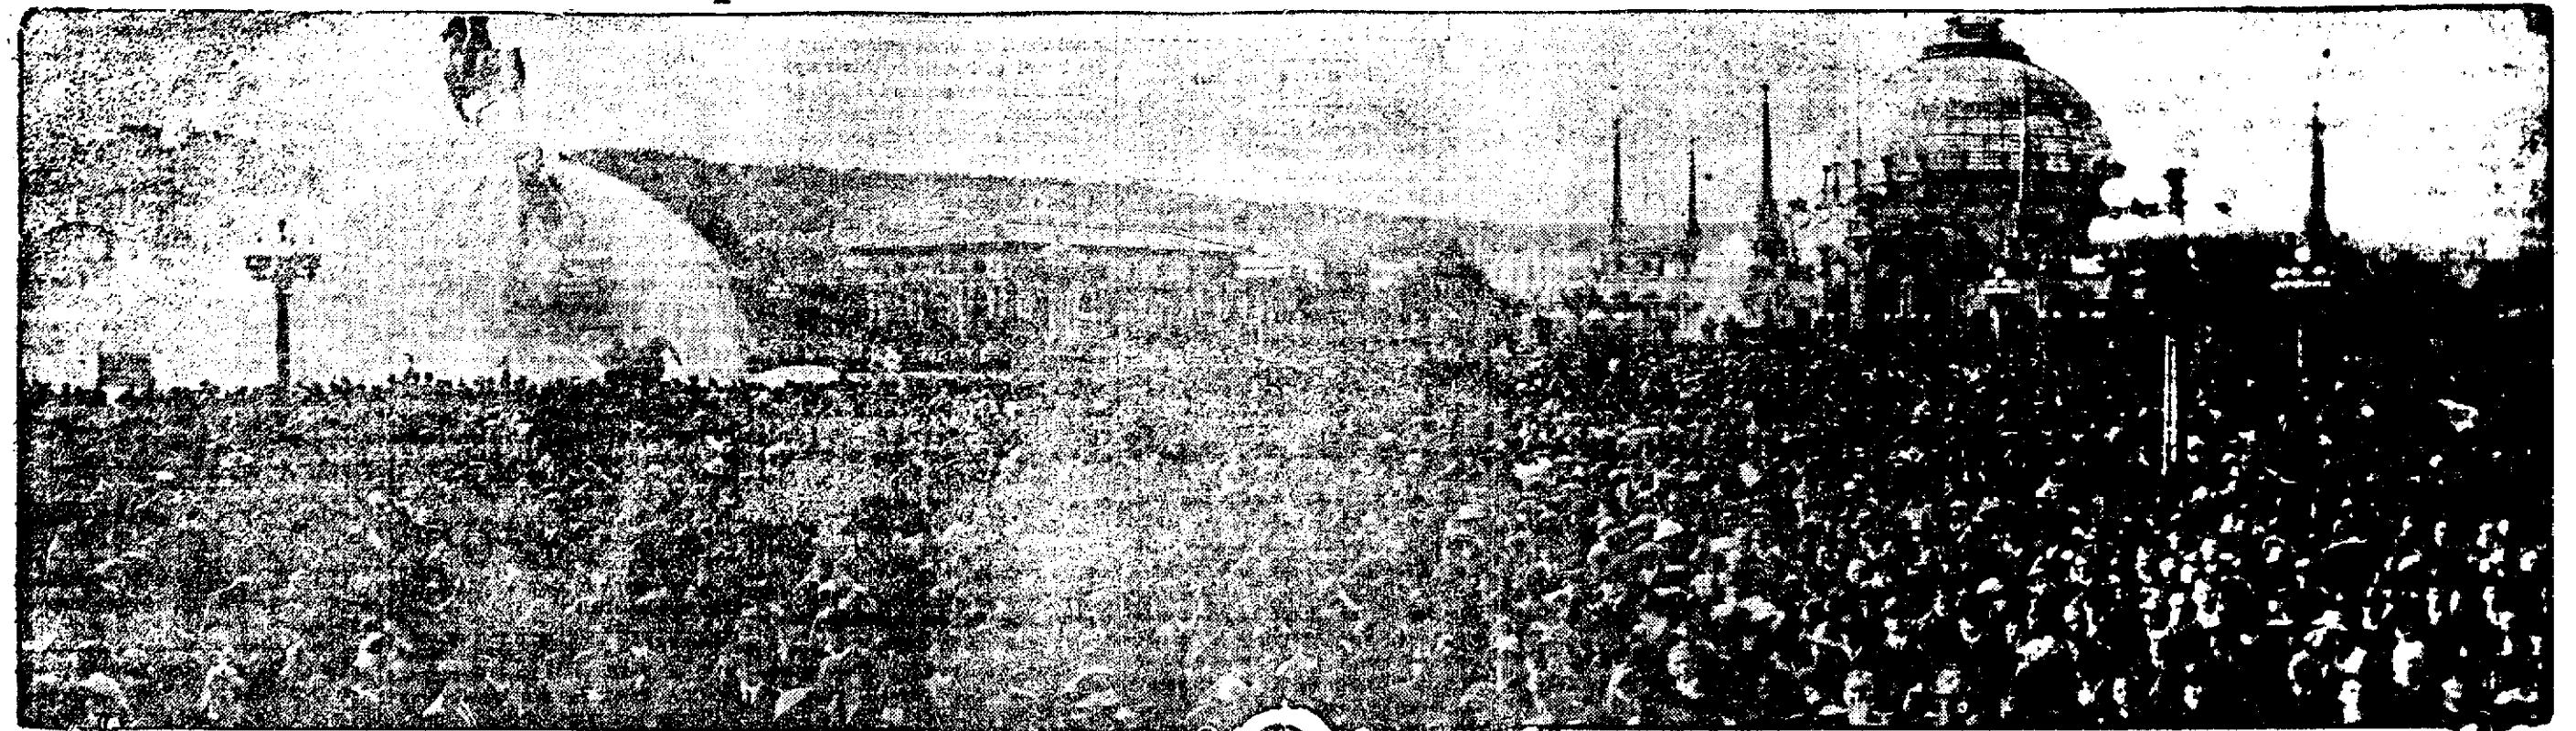

Read the Bible Stories certificate on another page of this issue, and learn how you can get this remarkable book with the compliments of this newspaper.

Vast Crowds See the Opening of Great Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco Feb. 20.

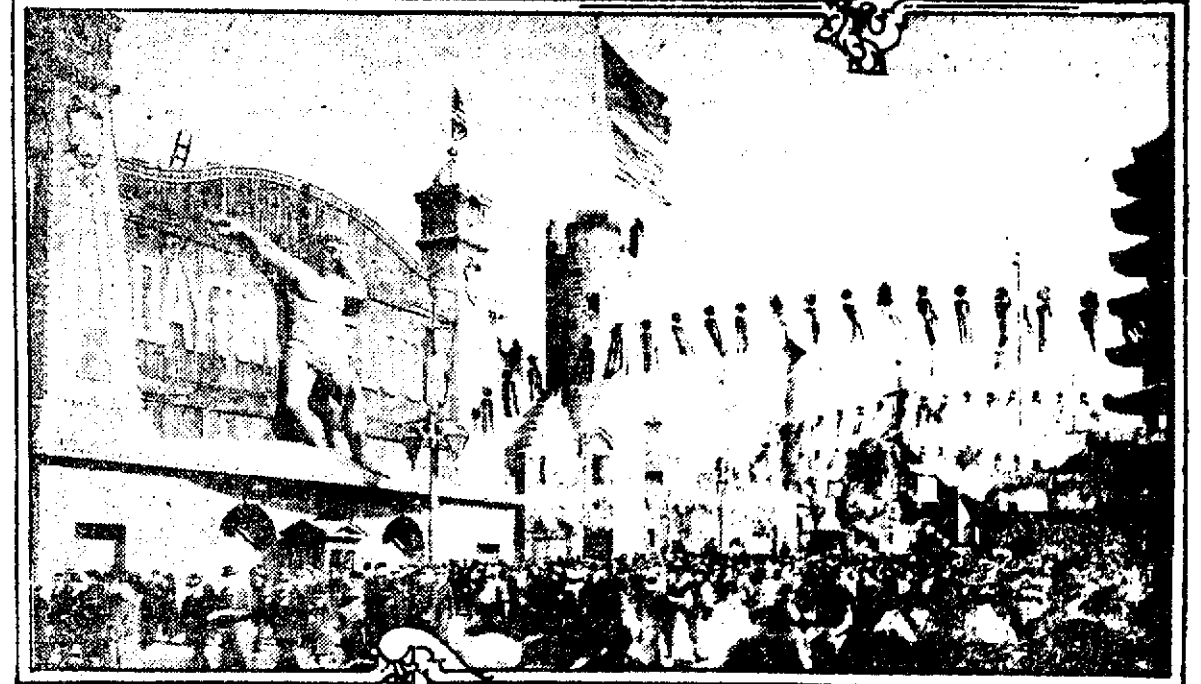

THIS remarkable panoramic photograph reproduced in two sections, one half above the other, shows part of the vast crowd that gathered on the opening day of the Exposition, Saturday, Feb. 20. The crowd was not only the greatest ever brought together in the west, but in witness it broke previous exhibition attendance records. The grounds were thronged with visitors from every part of the globe, and the big attendance still continues. The opening day crowd was remarkably peaceful, and no arrests were made by the Exposition guards or military during the day, and but one child was lost and it was returned to its mother within fifteen minutes. There were no accidents. On the left, in the upper photograph, is seen A. Stirling Oliver's magnificent sculpture "Energy, the Lord of the Isthmian Way," the figure of Energy is mounted on a spirited steed. Beneath the figure of Energy in the basin below may be seen the figure of a Venus, representing the North sea, the other figures in the basin. Next, at the left in the lower photograph, come the main exhibit palaces, the temporary grand stand erected for the opening day exercises. Here, headed by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, acting in behalf of President Wilson, President Charles C. Moore of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, Dr. Frederick J. V. Skiff, director in chief, accompanied by the thirty Exposition directors, welcomed the vast throng that assembled in Van Ness avenue and its lateral streets and, headed by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., walked on foot through the streets of the city and into the Exposition grounds through the Santa street entrance to the grand stand. At the time this photograph was taken, Vice Admiral Benches, aviator, had just appeared above the horizon in his flying machine, and the throng was awaiting Mr. Benches' approach to circle the huge Tower of Jewels. The exhibit palaces were crowded with tens of thousands of visitors who were smiling that wouldn't come off.

since speaking of the professor, as one of the noblest men that ever lived, telling of the professor's gifts of intellect, his mental ability, and his genuine effort to teach the truth. Mr. Patterson said the regarded Professor Youngman as one of the most accomplished educators of the land, and as one who inspired others with his earnestness, his desire to live the better life and his unselfish character. The tribute to Mr. Youngman's worth as a man and value as a citizen paid by Mr. Patterson showed the high regard in which he holds the Bible class teacher.

J. Fred Weaver followed with a fitting eulogium to the ability and solid worth of Mr. Youngman. He said that Mr. Youngman must be impressed with the fact that the Bible class holds him in high esteem and respect and said that Mr. Youngman deserves the love and admiration of his class. Mr. Weaver stated that the desire of the Bible class to express its kindly regard for Mr. Youngman came from the heart and was prompted by love for their teacher and appreciation of his preeminence as a citizen.

Senator McQuown, of the committee which had the matter of a substantial remembrance of the occasion in the shape of the material gift to Mr. Youngman, spoke very feelingly of his acquaintance with many years with the honor guest, and in closing presented Mr. Youngman with a number of gold coins, asserting that the precious metal would remind him of the fact that he is regarded by his friends as a man of the highest standard of manhood.

Professor Youngman, being called upon, said that he hoped his class would not expect him to make a speech. He wished to state that he appreciated the token of fellowship and the evidence of his class' kind regard for him better than words could express. Mr. Youngman spoke feelingly and in that modest manner which has ever distinguished him. He accepted the "yellow pill" in the spirit in which it was given, not only as money, but as an earnest of the love and friendship of the class.

Judge Singleton Bell aided his tribute to the marks of the evening, expressing a long other sentiments the fact that it had been Mr. Youngman's extreme modesty and not lack of ability that had prevented him seeking broader fields in which the light of his intellect would have shone resplendently. Judge Bell declared that Mr. Youngman was amply fitted to occupy any position in which intelligent thought and executive ability were required. He considered Mr. Youngman one of the best speakers of the day, because Mr. Youngman both thought and talked and said what he thought, which distinguished him from many men who could think but not talk or who talked without the ability to think.

One of the pleasant incidents of the evening was the bringing in by the efficient women who served the feast of a large birthday cake covered with lighted candles. At the close of the speechmaking a vote of thanks was presented to the capable ladies who had provided the supper and so courteously served it to the hungry guests.

Before adjourning a resolution attesting to the manly worth and excellent character of the late Walter L. McDunkin and expressing the condolences of the class to his relatives in their hour of bereavement was read by Alfred R. Reed and adopted by the class.

The affair throughout was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the Bible class of the Presbyterian church, the guests mingling in that friendly manner which proves that is not the time for experimenting with the board of health in this respect. There is some reason to believe that the present cases arising from the selfishness or neglect of persons having a mild case of scarlet fever in their homes and refusing to be conveniently quarantined, who have not employed a physician or made known the case to the health authorities. No punishment can be so severe for such persons, and the board announces that if such cases are found they will not be dealt with leniently.

The strength of the Brookville high school basketball team which will play the local boys on the Y. M. C. The DuBois team, it is said, did not play with the aggressiveness which they displayed in their games with Clearfield, and so the contest here with Brookville may be expected to be a good one.

The fact that the cases are scattered makes the possibility of an epidemic more probable. The board of health and the superintendent of schools held a joint meeting yesterday and formulated the following plan of procedure in the case of eventualities.

1. Keep your children in school. They are clean, thoroughly ventilated and carefully supervised by the teachers who will discontinue any suspicious cases and see that they receive prompt medical attention.

2. Should the number of cases continue to increase schools, churches and movies will be closed and all public gatherings of all kinds be prohibited until such time as the epidemic is deemed to be under control.

3. If you know of farmers who are selling produce coming from farms which are under quarantine, kindly request them to return home, and make report of same to the secretary of the board.

4. You will save money by employing your family physician early in all cases of illness which may arise during the existence of scarlet fever in your town.

Scarlet fever is an acute, infectious, specific and contagious disease. It is contagious from the beginning of eruption until scaling is complete. The period required for development after coming in contact with the infected patient is from one to seven days, more often two to four. In rare cases it is two weeks.

If you know or think you know of persons who are trying to conceal outbreaks, investigate and see if there is any ground for complaint. Then fill in the blank below, signing your own name. All complaints must be signed and addressed given. No names are divulged by this board.
